We have developed proprietary software and systems to manage and automate highly segmented and personalized communications. Project Profiler software streamlines data processing and performs all functions required for personalized messages delivered digitally or in the mail. Access Proof, a secure web-based file management system, allows you to view and proof documents in a secure online environment. For financial clients, document archiving is readily available to you for presentation to your customers.

Direct mail clients benefit from RITE, an automated form code verification program that ensures integrity of automatic lasering. We have also acquired state-of-the-art mail sorters that allow First Class mail from many mailers to be commingled to achieve the lowest postage discounts possible. Standard mail is managed by A.T.L.A.S., a system that manages mail consolidation to produce maximum cost efficiencies and mailing discounts.

Access meets and exceeds industry security standards and has security audit approval from many Fortune 500 companies.
